A particular Account of the Proceedings relating to Lord Lovat's Trial.

ON Sunday, March the 8th, a Commission passed the great seal, appointing the Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor to be Lord High Steward, during the trial of Simon Lord Lovat, which began, Monday, March 9.

The following Gentlemen were appointed to be Managers, viz.

Sir William Young, Bart. Mr. Attorney-General, Mr. Sollicitor-General, Lord Barrington, Lord Coke, Mr. Legg, Mr. Noel, Sir John Strange, Sir Richard Lloyd, Mr. York, Mr. Greenville, Mr. Littleton.

Mr. Charles Hamilton Gordon, Mr. Ford, Mr. Forster, and Mr. Wilmot, were assigned for council for Lord Lovat; and Mr. George Ross, Mr. Hugh Fraser, and Mr. Goostry, his Sollicitors.

And accordingly he was brought about 10 o'clock from the Tower, attended by Mr. Fowler the gentleman goaler, under a strong guard to Westminster-hall.

Soon after, the lord high steward, in his state coach, drawn by six horses, with five led coaches, and followed in grand procession by the lord chief justice Willes, the lord chief baron Parker, and the rest of the judges, and the masters in Chancery, went to the house of peers.

After which, they adjourned into Westminster-hall, and being there seated in their robes, the Commission for appointing a lord high steward was presented to his lordship by the clerk of the crown, which was after read, and all the lords stood uncovered.

Then the articles of impeachment against lord Lovat were read; and the lord high steward acquainted him with the nature of his crime: To which he pleaded Not Guilty.

The substance of the articles were,

I. That he traiterously conspired against his majesty in 1743, and 1745.

II. That he corresponded with the Pretender in 1743, and accepted of a commission under him of lieutenant-general, and general of the highlands; and of a patent creating him a duke, by the stile and title of duke of Fraser, &c. and associated with the traitors and enemies to his majesty and his government.

III. That he aided and assisted in raising men and money, and levying war against his majesty.

IV. That he caused a treasonable letter to be written and sent to the young Pretender, with offers of his service, and that of his son and clan.

V. That he excited others to rebel, and dispersed treasonable papers and letters among his acquaintance and dependants, with promises of assistance.

VI. That he sent his eldest son and his vassals to join the rebels, and supplied them with arms, ammunition and money.

VII. That he held a correspondence with several of the rebels, viz. Roy Stewart, Lochiel, the Camerons, J. Murray, &c. knowing them to be so.

[The Remainder in our next.]

CHARLES-TOWN, June 15.

By a Vessel from Philadelphia (just now arrived) we have the following Advices, viz. That the young Pretender had been at the Court of Madrid, was refused the Presence of the King of Spain, and ordered to return to the Place from whence he came, his Catholic Majesty being desirous to give no Umbrage to the Court of Great-Britain; which we hope portends a speedy Peace: That Admiral Medley, in the Mediterranean, had taken several Vessels with French Troops from Toulon for Genoa, drove many into several Ports, and dispersed the whole Convoy: That Gen. Schulembergh was ready to begin the Siege of Genoa, his Artillery being arrived on the Hills that command the City: That the King of Prussia is forming a Camp for 30,000 Men near Memel: That the Duke of Cumberland was arrived at the Head of the Allied Army, which had taken the Field the beginning of April, and was every where in Motion; and that the French Armies were likewise in Motion, and one of them within 3 German Leagues (27 Miles) of the Duke's: That the Admirals Anson and Warren sail'd from Spithead the 7th of April; and that the latter has been spoke with on the Banks of Newfoundland: That the Lord Lovat was beheaded the 9th of April: That 8 or 10 Spanish Privateers (among them Garaycochea) are cruizing off the Capes of Virginia and Delaware, and the neighbouring Coasts; and that from Philadelphia they have sent the Warren Snow Privateer, Capt. Kattur, on a Month's Cruize, to guard their Coasts.

An ELEGY, on the much lamented Death of the Rev. Mr. ROBERT BETHAM, who died May 31*st*, 1747, Aged 32 Years.

JUST in his youthful Prime and Bloom of Age,
BETHAM is call'd from off this earthly Stage;
Nor could the utmost Skill Physicians have,
His precious Life one Moment longer save;
Precious I say, for why? With Goodness fraught,
He practic'd what himself to others taught.
A Soul refin'd beyond the common Race,
Manur'd and till'd by Nature, Art and Grace;
A courteous Carriage, with a heav'nly Mind,
And ever faithful in the Trust consign'd;
Strict in his Duty, careful to improve
His Hearers Minds, to gain their Maker's Love;
No Loss of Thought could shut his fluent Lips,
Nor Loss of Words his lucid Thought eclipse:
No Wonder then, if all the Flock do weep,
When such a watchful Shepherd's fall'n asleep.
Oh cruel Death! so soon to snatch away
And change that Body to its former Clay,
Which with a heavenly Soul was so injoin'd,
That all his Works bespoke a virtuous Mind:
He seem'd as if design'd a Paradise
Of goodly Plants, without a Weed of Vice:
Too good, alas! for us poor Mortals here,
He's chang'd his earthly for a heav'nly Sphere,
Where he, no Doubt, with glorious Saints above
Is now partaking of his Father's Love.
Then weep no more the Loss of such a Friend,
Whose Life and Death directs us to our End;
And since he's gone, be this our Care and Strife,
Like Him to live, like Him to end our Life.
